

CAMELLIA INTERIORS

With over 30-years' experience of designing coastal home, in the high-end luxury market, Camellia Interiors has worked on everything from grand coastal properties and penthouse apartments to quaint cottages, townhouses and commercial premises.

As well as working direct with private clients, Camellia works closely with architects, property developers and holiday let companies; it also helps estate agents to advise potential buyers on suitable investment properties and how to maximise a property's potential and add value.

Whether it's the blank canvas of a new build to the complete re-configuration of a building, Camellia works on everything from large-scale builds and renovations to simple room makeovers. With a fantastic reputation and many years of experience in the luxury holiday home industry, it is the go-to interior design agency in Cornwall and one of the only qualified and accredited British Institute of Interior Design practices in the county. Founder Elaine Skinner, is the point of contact for all clients direct, helped by her team of professionally qualified designers.
